Video: Two Easy Steps to Saving a Life

As part of CPR and AED Awareness Week, Fairfax County Fire and Rescue would like to remind all residents that Hands-Only CPR can save lives. According to our friends at the American Heart Association, most people who experience cardiac arrest at home, work or in a public location die because they don't receive immediate CPR from someone on the scene.

As a bystander, don't be afraid. Your actions can only help. Immediate CPR can double or even triple a person's chance of survival.

Watch the brief video above to learn how two easy steps can help to save a life in the event of an emergency.

Making the Most of Summer

Summer days are just around the corner. While your child may be looking forward to more free time, you may be wondering just how to fill those days or worrying about fitting everything into those precious summer months. Here are some tips to help you make the most of the summer with your child and make sure they have time to recharge for next school year.

1. Make sure your child has the supervision needed to stay safe and healthy. Adequate supervision is essential to ensure the safety and wellbeing of children. The Fairfax County Department of Family Services has published guidelines to help you determine if your child is ready to be left unsupervised.
2. Make family time a priority. You don't have to go on a family vacation to make family time a priority this summer. Try to set aside time each day to do something as a family.
3. Avoid the summer slide. Children can lose academic gains in the summer. One way to address this is to encourage your child to read during the summer months. The Fairfax County Public Libraries will once again host their Summer Reading Adventure program for children from birth to rising seniors. The program runs from June 15 to September 1.

4. Find meaningful summer enrichment opportunities. Summer is a great time for high school students to take advantage of enrichment opportunities that will allow them to explore different careers and prepare for life after high school.
5. Weigh the benefits and drawbacks of optional academic summer courses. While some students may be required to attend summer academic programs, other students may have the option of taking a high school course in the summer. It is important to talk with your child about the reason for taking a summer course before enrolling.
6. Give your child time to relax while maintaining some structure. It can be tempting to fill your summer with events and activities, but be sure to build in some downtime for everyone in your home.
